IV. Officer Reports

A. Chair’s Report

Chairperson Klausman reported Regent Bunten has agreed to join the audit committee. He thanked him for his service.

B. President's Report

President Farley reported enrollment is down from last year at this time by 99 students, equal to approximately a 1.3% decline which he noted is expected in a time of declining high school graduations. He said this number also reflects the new admissions criteria in which students with low academic credentials are referred to the new Bridge program offered at Washburn Institute of Technology which was developed as an alternative pathway for students who need more preparation for the traditional college courses. Dr. Farley said about 40-50 students of the 99 which were not admitted to Washburn University were referred to the Bridge program at Washburn Institute of Technology and a total of 22 enrolled in the program.

Dr. Farley noted law school and graduate school enrollments were down slightly; however, he discussed this decline in light of the news release from the Kansas Board of Regents on other Kansas schools. He stated Washburn overall stayed in good standing comparatively. President Farley reported Washburn Institute of Technology enrollment rose by 6%, which includes 55 new students.
President Farley announced Family Day this coming weekend. He also said the Career and Graduate School Fair was a success. He said it should be a good week for the football team.

President Farley discussed the iRead program and reported the author of the last chosen iRead book, Our Boys: A Perfect Season on the Plains, visited campus. He said Joe Drake gave a presentation on the book including his experiences in writing the book, adding the presentation was quite interesting and well attended.

Dr. Farley reported Mr. Silkenat, the President of the American Bar Association, came to campus to speak for Constitution Day, and was quite impressive. While on campus, Mr. Silkenat taught classes in the law school and the business school and then gave a presentation at the Bradbury Thompson Alumni Center. Dr. Farley expressed his appreciation to Judge Christel Marquardt for her part in bringing Mr. Silkenat to campus.

C. Committee Report(s)

1. Audit Committee

Regent Sourk reported the Audit Committee met on August 30, 2012, and was given a report from the auditors. She noted the full report from the auditors should be done in November, at which time the committee will bring a full report to the Board.

degree, technical courses were delivered at Washburn Institute of Technology with a number of general education courses delivered through the School of Applied Studies. Dr. Pembrook said the new format for delivery of the courses will all take place at Washburn Institute of Technology with oversight by his office and the Washburn Board of Regents. He noted the program would be reduced from a total

   Vice President for Administration and Treasurer, Rick Anderson, presented the item for approval. He said November 1 through October 30 is the plan year. He reported the past year review and the projected claims for the following year based upon that review resulted in a recommendation of no increase for coverage. He also noted that not all employees pay the same rate for spouse and/or dependents, as the rates vary based upon salary.
Vice President Anderson also explained the ability of Washburn to take advantage of the grandfather provisions of the Health Care Act and at times to fall under the non-grandfathered provisions. He said one positive aspect for Washburn has been the ability to cover preventative care. He explained that in years of favorable outcomes Washburn could move to the non-grandfathered provisions and not increase rates. He also noted drug costs have changed, although generic brands have stayed the same as last year. Mr. Anderson reported the co-pay for office visits has increased from $25 to $30 per visit.

It was moved and seconded to approve. Motion passed.

3. Renewal of Insurance Policies

Vice President for Administration and Treasurer, Rick Anderson, presented the item for approval. He explained how the market has hardened and has resulted in a higher expense for insurance. Mr. Anderson said Washburn University has over time adjusted the deductibles and moved to other insurance carriers to reduce the expense of insurance as much as possible.

It was moved and seconded to approve. Motion passed.

4. Midwest Training Center for Climate and Energy Controls Technology

5. Clark Coco, Dean of Washburn Institute of Technology, presented the item. Dr. Coco said Washburn Tech has received several grants from the Department of Commerce for a state-of-the-art HVAC training facility. He said space will require some renovations to accommodate the new equipment. The training center name has been changed to Midwest Training Center for Climate and Energy Controls Technology to recruit individuals to receive advanced training. Dr. Coco indicated Trane Corporation and SnapOn Tools are also sponsors of the training center.

It was moved and seconded to approve. Motion passed.

Vice President for Administration and Treasurer, Rick Anderson, presented the item for approval. He explained KTWU procured a grant which is sufficient to cover the cost of the back-up system. Mr. Eugene Williams, KTWU General Manager, spoke to the Board and explained the need for back-up power to warn the public in case of an emergency.

It was moved and seconded to approve. Motion passed.

President Farley discussed the program review process. He said it is a very comprehensive review in which each department on campus is reviewed every five years. Dr. Farley referred the Board to the summary provided. He said the process is very thorough and has been very beneficial to the university.

Dr. Farley asked Dr. Randy Pembrook, Vice President for Academic Affairs, to speak to the process. Dr. Pembrook said he is on the review team representing the academic departments along with Vice President for Administration and Treasurer, Rick Anderson, representing the Administrative areas, and Vice President for Student Life, Dr. Denise Ottinger, representing Student Life. 3. Presentations

a. Risk Management

Vice President for Administration and Treasurer, Rick Anderson, presented a summary of the Washburn University Risk Management process. He said the current emergency operations plan is based upon the National Incident Management System (NIMS) model, further explaining the need to be consistent with the NIMS model in order to effectively coordinate with local agencies in case of emergency. He said Topeka has a very active fire marshal and as a result we are up to date on compliance. He said we have a background check policy which is a part of the recruitment and hiring process. Mr. Anderson also discussed the numerous training programs provided to employees and students, including resident assistants. He also said numerous updates to policies and procedures show the continual improvements being made on how Washburn manages risk.

b. College of Arts and Sciences

Vice President for Academic Affairs, Randy Pembrook, introduced Dr. Gordon McQuere, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, and he discussed the upcoming presentations from the other Major Academic Deans.

Regent Storey departed at 3:52 p.m.

Dr. McQuere gave a presentation on the state of the College of Arts and Sciences which includes five divisions, 19 departments and approximately 50 degree programs.

Regent Sneed asked about degree programs in areas where majors are not growing jobs, and suggested there is a new argument universities within the state dedicated to certain degree programs. Dr. McQuere stated it may be good educationally to have specialized schools but that students change majors usually more than once in their college career. He made the point that universities help mold students into the degree program right for them and a change in major should not in most circumstances require a change in university.

Dr. Farley discussed the success of education in United States because of the broad diversity of institutions, a great benefit which can be lost with a model of specialized schools. He said the there is a balance between economies of scale and broad diversity in education.

Meeting adjourned at 4:21 p.m.

Secretary, Board of Regents
Washburn University Board of Regents

BACKGROUND:

Washburn University and Washburn Institute of Technology issued requests for proposals from qualified energy service companies (ESCO) to provide facility conservation and energy improvement services for both campuses in March 2012. All companies had to be pre-qualified in the State of Kansas (K.S.A. 75-37,125) through the Kansa Corporation Commission and have examples of successful projects completed in the State. Three of the four companies providing proposals were selected to make formal presentations as part of the final selection process. At the May 1, 2012 meeting, the Board of Regents approved the award of a contract to Trane to perform a detailed energy audit and make recommendations for an energy performance contract for Washburn University and Washburn Institute of Technology.

DESCRIPTION:

Projects have been selected based on energy savings, need for investment to address deferred maintenance and obsolescence, and simple payback. We propose to invest a modest amount of University funds to reduce the length and cost of debt and maximize the total investment in projects. This project replaces major systems at the end of their useful lives and are currently operating in an inefficient manner. It will extend the life of many of our major systems for twenty to thirty years. The university will reap annual energy savings/conservation well into the future and well beyond the debt repayment period. Outlined below is a summary of the project:

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Estimated Annual Utility Savings</td>
<td>$617,880</td>

<tr>
<td>Simple Payback</td>

</tr>
</tbody>

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS:

Select projects to maximize payback with annual energy savings initially of $617,880 per year. Dedicate University funds to maximize investment and reduce the length and amount of debt. Issue 15 year debt not to exceed $10 million. We will bring back to the Board in January a specific proposal on how to structure the debt.
RECOMMENDATION:

President Farley recommends the Board of Regents approve entering into an energy performance contract with Trane that would guarantee energy savings and allow the University to execute projects totaling $12,346,000. The structure of the financing proposed is $10 million of debt and $2.346 million from campus reserves.

RECOMMENDATION:

President Farley recommends approval of these personnel actions.
SUBJECT: Designate Dr. Harold Rood as Professor Emeritus

DESCRIPTION:

Professor Rood’s full-time service to Washburn University began in 1970 and concluded with his retirement on June 30, 2012. He earned his Bachelor of Art in 1963, Master of Art in 1968, and Ph.D. in 1974, all from Michigan State University.

Professor Rood has given faithful and outstanding service to Washburn for forty-two years, 34 of which he has been recognized across the campus as an exceptionally proficient and effective Chair of the Philosophy Department. He has also served for many years as Chair of the Humanities Division of the College of Arts and Sciences. In addition, he has been named to virtually every committee in the College or University and has distinguished himself in particular for many years on the University Benefits Committee, where he has been instrumental in establishing and shaping benefits (especially health care benefits), not only for faculty but for administration and staff, as well. The phased retirement program at Washburn owes much to Professor Rood's efforts.

While serving as Philosophy Department Chair, Professor Rood has often assumed a teaching load far beyond that required or expected of faculty with his administrative responsibilities. He devised and for several years taught a course on Logic for Computer Programmers, which drew hundreds of students in so many sections that an additional faculty position had to be created to cope with the demand. He has often team-taught overload courses with faculty from other disciplines, including mathematics, the sciences, and religious studies. He has also tutored and advised countless students, not just to help them through their undergraduate years, but to guide them in preparation for postgraduate work, especially those aiming toward admission to law school. By the way, Professor Rood's track record for getting students placed in law school is truly admirable.

Despite all of his college and university service and teaching responsibilities, Professor Rood has not neglected his scholarship and research. In addition to his expertise in matters regarding faculty personnel, Professor Rood authored books for use in two of his courses at Washburn: a textbook for his freshman introductory logic course, and Logic for Computer Programmers, which has been reprinted in several editions and used across the nation in courses similar to the one Professor Rood taught here.

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS:

None

RECOMMENDATION:

President Farley recommends the Board of Regents bestow the title “Professor Emeritus” to Dr. Harold Rood.

__________   ____________
Date   Jerry B. Farley, President
SUBJECT: 2012 Winter Closing Schedule

DESCRIPTION:

Each year, except for essential services and emergencies, all University operations are closed between Christmas Day and New Year’s Day to allow employees to spend time with their families. Two of the days are paid holidays when there are three working days during the closed period; three are paid holidays when there are four working days. Employees wishing to be paid for the remaining day must use earned personal leave.

This year, Christmas Day falls on Tuesday, and under current policy, the University will be open for business on Monday, December 24. Normal business operations will be very limited on that day, as it is the only day during the week the University would be open. The holidays will not occur on the calendar in the same way for another five (5) years. It is therefore recommended the University be closed for business on Monday, December 24, only for the year 2012.

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS:

None.

RECOMMENDATION:

President Farley recommends the Board of Regents approve the administrative closing of the University on December 24, 2012.

SUBJECT: Remodel of Piano Lab, Rm#235, Garvey Fine Arts Center
   – Project #C13015

DESCRIPTION:

The existing piano lab in Garvey 235 is currently a combination of listening lab and learning lab. Due to changes in technology, the listening lab is no longer needed, however, there is a large demand for the learning lab. This project is a result of the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM) accreditation mandate. The project is to enlarge the learning lab to accommodate a large section of pianos for teaching and will provide two additional offices/studios for faculty and a storage room.

Plans and specifications were distributed on October 19, 2012 and bids were received on November 1, 2012. Bids were as follows:

SUBJECT: LL.M. in Global Legal Studies

DESCRIPTION:

Short overview of the proposal

The mission of Washburn University School of Law is to “serve our local, national, and global communities. We do so by preparing students of diverse backgrounds and learning styles to be effective lawyers with the knowledge, skills, and values necessary to serve their clients, our profession, and society at large. Through our scholarship and service, we enhance student learning, contribute directly to the legal community, and set an example of lifelong intellectual inquiry and professionalism.”

This program will be aimed at foreign lawyers, providing areas of study that will help prepare them for practice, teaching, and policy making in a global legal marketplace. The program will include a number of different options for specialization, with the initial tracks being in U.S. and international corporate and commercial law, public law, and U.S. legal analysis, writing, and advocacy skills training. More tracks may be added over time. As well, students interested in teaching law in their home countries will have access to the specialized teacher training that is available at Washburn. The program will provide the kinds of substantive learning and skills training increasingly necessary for success in a global marketplace, while at the same time attracting a diverse body of foreign trained lawyers who will bring global perspectives and experiences to the classroom, thereby adding to the diversity of the learning experience of our juris doctor students, and enhancing their understanding of the increasingly global practice of law.

Rationale: The objective in establishing the program is to enhance the credentials and brand of the School of Law by offering a high-quality international graduate degree in law, while at the same time generating additional revenue for the School, both through tuition and the development over time of loyal international alumni donors. Both of these will ultimately contribute to enhancing the School’s competitiveness within the domestic market, and increase its reputation influence both domestically and globally.

As indicated above, an added rationale is that the growth of such a program within the School will increasingly expose our domestic J.D. students to diverse legal and cultural perspectives that will enrich the educational experience the School can offer its American students, and contribute to preparing them for employment in an increasingly globalized and transnational marketplace.

There is demand for American LL.M. programs among lawyers and recent graduates of law programs in a wide array of countries. These include those countries that are increasingly engaged in trade and commerce with the United States and other Western countries; those with legal systems undergoing fundamental reform, and which look to the United States legal system as a model; and those countries that are experiencing a shift in the educational model underpinning their legal system, and which similarly look to the US legal education system as an example to be emulated. The explosion of LL.M. programs among law schools in the United States reflects the growth of this market, and countries such as China and India, in particular, are perceived as deep growth markets. The program is aimed at a variety of potential students, including those hoping to write the bar in a US jurisdiction and practice in either a US or a transnational law firm, those intending to return to practice law in local firms in their home countries, and those intending to pursue a career in legal academia.

Proposed Effective Date: Summer 2014
Approved by Faculty Senate on August 27, 2012
Approved by General Faculty September 13, 2012

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS:

The program is projected to be revenue generating after three-five years, and to be self-sustaining from the outset. It is not anticipated that new faculty will be required to teach the program as currently designed. Students will be integrated into currently existing J.D. classes in a manner that minimizes the extra work load for any one professor. Once established and generating sufficient revenue, it is anticipated that additional dedicated academic support staff will be employed by the School to administer the program. Initial cooperation from International House will be necessary in the first years of the program.

RECOMMENDATION:

President Farley recommends Board of Regents approval.

LLM Curriculum Outline

Structure of the Program

The LL.M. in Global Legal Studies will be a single LL.M. degree, but with optional tracks for specialization, similar to the Certificate options available to our J.D. students. The students will be required to earn a minimum of 24 credits in order to graduate. In order to ensure that graduates of the program are eligible for admission to the bar of New York, there will be a required course-load that all students must take, together with another six credit hours from a selection of core courses, some of which may dovetail with the focus of one or other of the tracks. The remaining twelve credit hours will be comprised of electives to be selected from the list for each of the tracks. At the outset there will be three tracks, though this may be added to over time. The initial three tracks are to be U.S. and International Corporate and Commercial Law (Commercial); Public Law (Public); and U.S. Legal Analysis, Writing, and Advocacy Skills (Skills). In addition to the three tracks, there will be promotion of an opportunity for a limited number of students to participate in the Law Teaching Institute’s certificate program, for those students aspiring to a career in legal teaching. Students will meet with the faculty program director to assist in course selection, tailored to their individual objectives. The program is outlined below.
