* The policy of the University is to allow field students the same holidays as designated for all students; however, field instructors and students should discuss client assignments which may necessitate student's responsibility during vacations. Field instructors should assist students in planning their assignments so that all work will be completed by vacation times and appropriate arrangements will be made with clients for student's absences. (In some instances a student's continued involvement with the field placement during breaks may be necessary - please consult with the field seminar faculty and the agency field instructor). The Director of Field Practicum must approve these plans. See Hours Exception Memo in your Practicum Forms Packet for details.
