

WASHBURN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF NURSING

Recommended Graduate Statistics Courses

The prerequisite statistics course may be completed at Washburn University or any other accredited college or university. To be acceptable, the course must cover both descriptive and beginning inferential statistical methods. Courses from other academic institutions should be evaluated by the advisor to determine their acceptability. The following courses are recommended to meet the graduate level statistics requirement:

Washburn University

PY 610 GA	Intermediate Statistics	3 cr hr
-----------	-------------------------	---------

Available online.

University of Kansas – Lawrence and Edwards Campuses

EPSY 710 & 711	Introduction to Statistical Analysis	3 cr hr
----------------	--------------------------------------	---------

	Introduction to Statistical Computing	1 cr hr
--	---------------------------------------	---------

University of Kansas Medical Center

BIOS 704	Principles of Statistics in Public Health	3 cr hr
----------	---	---------

(Permission number needed – contact Jackie Jorland, 913-588-7490, email - jjorland@kumc.edu )

Kansas State University

STAT 703	Introduction to Statistical Methods for the Sciences	3 cr hr
----------	--	---------

Available online.

Fort Hays State University

NURS 808	Statistics for Health Professionals	3 cr hr
----------	-------------------------------------	---------

Available online.

Baker University

MAT500 or MA500	Statistics and Analysis	3 cr hr
-----------------	-------------------------	---------

Available online.

University of Missouri –Kansas City

N5612	Statistics I	3 cr hr
-------	--------------	---------