

Sample for informational purposes only. Actual yearly schedule may change and/or deviate.

Forensic Anthropology
Recovery Unit

Identifying Human vs. Non-Human Bone

Forensic Anthropology Short Course

Sample Daily Course Schedule

- 8:00 Introductions & Forensic Anthropology Today lecture with interactive discussion
- 9:00 Is it bone? lecture with interactive real-time Q&A polls
- 10min Break
- 10:10 Introduction to the Human Skeleton lecture with interactive real-time Q&A polls
- 11:00 Exercise #1 Breakout Rooms- Who Needs a Forensic Anthropologist? – working in small groups you will apply what you learned to in the previous lecture to examples
- 12:00 Lunch
- 1:00 Methods for Differentiating Human from Non-Human Bones and Teeth lecture with interactive real-time Q&A polls
- 1:00 Adults (Exercise #2) – competency exercise to test yourself on how to differentiate non-human remains from adult human remains based on what you learned in the previous lecture
- 1:10 Differentiating Subadult Human remains from Non-Human Bones lecture with interactive real-time Q&A polls
- 10min Break
- 3:45 Subadults (Exercise #3) – competency exercise to test yourself on how to differentiate non-human remains from subadult human remains based on what you learned in the previous lecture
- 3:30 Cases with the Forensic Anthropologist – real case examples demonstrating the type of cases typically encountered in a forensic context and exemplifying when to utilize a Forensic Anthropologist
- 3:45 What you Need to Know- informational session on how to find a board-certified forensic anthropologist, resources that are available, and what to send the Forensic Anthropologist if you have a case that needs a significance determination
- 4:00 Final Quiz competency exercise to test yourself on all of the course content
- 4:50 Course Closing and Certificates