“This book is designed as a resource for all of Washburn University. It helps us understand how to present ourselves to the world at large.”
A MESSAGE FROM DR. FARLEY, PRESIDENT, WASHBURN UNIVERSITY

It’s not enough that we hold Washburn University so dear to our hearts. We all know Washburn to be a very special place. We need to share that love and that spirit with others. We need to do so intentionally in order to attract the best students and promote the University’s character and traditions.

A strong brand helps us fulfill that mission. I firmly believe we have established just such a brand and this book will help us all put Washburn University’s best foot forward.

We have a number of schools, areas, programs and individuals at Washburn. That makes us a strong institution, but it also can be confusing to those outside of the Washburn family. That makes it all the more important that we project a unified voice to the world – that our identity is expressed to the public in an engaging and recognizable manner.

This brand book provides the guidelines for maintaining that vital consistency in our messaging and approach. From visual elements, tone of voice, down to the specific fonts to use in our communications, this is your ‘field manual’ for giving Washburn University its unique voice.

I encourage all of the faculty and staff to become familiar with our brand through this book. In it you will find the particulars of how we speak about Washburn and promote ourselves. But more importantly, it will help all of us express the passion for the work we do here on behalf of our students and our community.

Thank you for all that you do.

Dr. Jerry Farley,
President
Washburn University
Be true to your school.

—The Beach Boys
It’s only fitting we begin the Washburn University brand book with a lyric from the Beach Boys. After all, they may be the very definition of a brand – often imitated, never duplicated. And when you hear them, there’s no mistaking them for anyone else.

The same holds true for the Washburn University brand. It has been created to help ensure that this university stands out among its peers and competitors. It has been designed to best tell the Washburn University story in a manner that befits not only the university, but appeals to the potential students, faculty and staff that will continue to propel Washburn University on its path to greatness.

And, again like the Beach Boys, harmony is everything. For the Washburn University brand to be clear and consistent, we, the men and women of Washburn University, must be purposeful in our communication. We must know our parts and sing them loudly, proudly and boldly.

We must be true to our school.
WHAT DOES WASHBURN UNIVERSITY STAND FOR?
WE EXIST SOLELY TO HELP YOU BECOME YOUR BEST SELF.

This is our essence. Our reason for being. Whether we teach economics or serve in the Office of the Registrar, what unites us is our desire to help others be their best.

This essence of the Washburn University brand encompasses all that we do. And for our students, our brand is defined by how they experience what we do.

By living out the Washburn University brand, we’re able to provide an experience that is rich, robust and meaningful in the lives of our students. Not only them, but in ourselves as well, as we seek to live out a cause more noble even than education; transformation.

Consistency is the key to our brand’s success. And achieving that consistency calls for simplicity, discipline and focus. Every single one of our interactions with those we wish to attract to Washburn University has the potential to strengthen our brand equity. Or to weaken it. So we call upon a united effort of every department, every program, every office, every single Washburn University faculty and staff member to learn the simple rules set forth in this brand guide. To have the discipline to put those simple rules into action. And to have the focus to be consistent and intentional with your interactions. After all, you are the Washburn University brand.

Consider this the Cliff’s Notes® for your Washburn University Brand Guidelines. Not everyone will need to refer, for instance, to the proper spacing of the university logo, or the correct way to make videos ready for YouTube®.

On the other hand, everyone who works at Washburn University should have a working knowledge of the major tenets of the brand. So here they are, in an easy to read and understand format. With this single sheet you’ll be able to ensure that any and all communications, both internal and external, follow brand protocols.

From the noble purpose of the brand essence to the particulars of the brand voice, this sheet will help you become integral to the success of the university, and will serve as a constant reminder that your work here shares a common theme; To help others become the best version of themselves.

This is our mark. Our first impression. It is what begins to separate us from our competitors, and what identifies us to our community. It’s not simply a mix of typeface and color – it is a graphic representation of who we are and what we stand for. So it’s understandable that we’re more than a little protective of it.
PREFERRED USE
Always use the wordmark shown here. Also available are two one-color logos, one in Washburn Blue, or Pantone 654, and one in black. A reversed version for dark background use is also available. No other colors or combinations are allowed.

LOGO SIZING
To ensure legibility in print media, the logo may not be reproduced in sizes of less than 1” in width. The minimum size for electronic media is 72 pixels in width.

CLEARANCE
Clear, uncluttered space surrounding the logo maintains the mark’s integrity, impact and legibility. Allow minimum clearance of the height of the capital W on all four sides.

REVERSE LOGOS CAN BE FEATURED IN THE FOLLOWING WASHBURN UNIVERSITY BRAND COLORS. THE WORD “UNIVERSITY” CAN BE EITHER COMPLETELY WHITE, OR IN THE BRAND GRAY, AS SHOWN ON THE EXAMPLES HERE.
A fairly lengthy but by no means exhaustive list of things not to do with the logo:

DON’T

- Re-create the logomark
- Use the logomark within text
- Swap colors
- Use an incomplete or improperly sized logo
- Outline the logo, alter or replace typefaces
- Use old logos or unapproved taglines
- Rotate the logo
- Use any type of effect or skew
- Rearrange the logo elements
- Place the logo on a background that distracts or overpowers the logo
- Use a drop shadow
- Combine the logomark with any other marks, graphic elements or words, except as specified
JUST DON'T DO IT.

- Use unauthorized colors
- Skew, bend, warp, rotate or animate the logo
- Outline the logo
- Add a drop shadow
- Replace typefaces
- Use backgrounds that distract or overpower the logo

WASHBURN UNIVERSITY

ADVANCED LOGO STUDIES
The Washburn University logo is the main identifier for the university. That said, there is a system for including all of the other groups and divisions within the university.

PRIMARY UNIT LOGOS

Primary units will always be notated in bold, upstyle (all capital letters) gray Gotham typeface, and always below the Washburn University logo (see examples at right).

Groups and divisions within the university may not create their own logos or alter the structure mentioned above.
This official seal is a registered mark of the university and its usage is limited to the discretion of the Office of the President.
SECONDARY UNIT LOGOS
Secondary units will be notated in Washburn Blue, downstyle (initial caps on words of three or more letters) Garamond type.

Secondary units may not create their own logos or alter the structure mentioned above.

The very essence of Washburn University
Enthusiastic. Courteous. Sincere in the search for truth and knowledge. Studious and serious, but a friend to all.

That is the spirit of Ichabod Washburn, and the spirit that lives on here at Washburn University.

And, while the Ichabod is not a formal logo of the University, he is most certainly our Mascot. More than that, he is a constant reminder of what it means to truly be an Ichabod from Washburn University.

As such, he is held in high esteem. And, while he is the embodiment of the Washburn brand, he is not a substitute for any brand marks, logos or wordmarks.

The Ichabod is trademarked by Washburn University and any and all usage must be pre-approved. For more information contact wurelations@washburn.edu or 785-670-1154.
RULES FOR MR. ICHABOD

There is only one acceptable version of the Mr. Ichabod Icon, and it is shown below. (There is also an official left-facing version.)

All usage of Mr. Ichabod must be approved by Washburn Public Relations.

Mr. Ichabod is a trademarked icon, and may not be altered in any way. He will normally appear in authorized colors:

• Washburn Blue (pantone 654)
• Black (or shades thereof)
• Reversed to a solid color of gray or white

While Mr. Ichabod Icon is representative of a person, he is not to be personalized in any way. For instance, do not replace his top hat with a football helmet, or substitute a laptop for his textbook.

He may appear in the same piece of communications (ad, brochure, and flyer) where he is not directly to the right of the University logo. If he is directly to the left, the “lockup” rules apply.

Mr. Ichabod is not the logo but rather the mascot and an icon of the university. He may also be used with words other than the wordmark. If used with the words “Washburn University” those words should not mimic the wordmark.

Mr. Ichabod may be used in lockup (directly alongside) the logo. In this usage, Mr. Ichabod MUST be on the left side of the logo and facing right as shown above.

CROPPING THE ICHABOD.

It is permissible to crop the Ichabod Icon for graphic use, but never so tightly that his head and arms are out of picture.
The Washburn Spirit Mark

This mark is the graphic embodiment of the Washburn University fighting spirit, and is used by the Athletic Department.

It may be used for equipment, signage and uniforms for sanctioned Washburn University Athletic events and is also available for other uses such as recruitment. It is, however, a less formal mark and the nature of the communication needs to be considered.

The mark, however, is the primary mark for athletics and may also be used as a graphic element for athletic event promotions and editorial coverage of news and events related to Washburn Athletics. Other event promotions will normally use the more formal logo.

The mark is not a substitute for the Washburn University logo, nor is it to be used side-by-side (in lockup) with the University logo, as seen in this example:

The mark may be used in conjunction with the Washburn University logo, but only as secondary graphic element (either smaller in size than the University logo, or screened back in color so that the University logo is more prominent).
Washburn University Athletic teams may use the Spirit Mark as a mark for their sports as shown in the examples below.

All of the logos (and not just the W) as well as the other Washburn name and other university verbiage such as Ichabods are licensed under a program administered through Learfield Licensing Partners.

All merchandise must be purchased through licensed vendors. For further information, refer to Washburn University Policies, Regulations and Procedures Manual – Policy P (Trademark Licensing).
The Washburn University School of Law has not only an illustrious past, but a history almost as long as the University itself.

Befitting an institution with a legacy spanning more than a century, the School of Law has been afforded their own Heritage Mark, the familiar ‘Scales of Justice, W’ seen here.

With the new brand, however, the Heritage Mark will no longer be used in conjunction with the Washburn University logo. Rather, it will be used as a standalone mark, never side-by-side (in lockup) with the Washburn University logo. See examples of appropriate and inappropriate usage of the Washburn University School of Law Heritage Mark.

The scales are available in Washburn Blue and black.

The mark is not a substitute for the Washburn University logo, nor is it to be used side-by-side (in lockup) with the University logo, as seen in this example.

Like the Ichabod, the Heritage Mark MAY appear above the logo in certain usages such as on a pin, shirt or hat.
The Washburn University Institute of Technology has been a tremendous success story since joining the Washburn family in 2008. It has been affectionately known as Washburn Tech, and that’s fine, when following these guidelines:

LOGO USAGE

Washburn Tech may continue to use an updated version of its previous logo, now known as the informal logo. It may be used on advertising, apparel and signs. The formal logo can be used anywhere in place of the informal logo and is the preferred logo for use on letterhead.

The informal logo may also be used on uniforms authorized by Washburn Tech and may appear with the program or department name below the logo. For instance, a uniform with “Electrical Technology” below the logo. The program name shouldn’t be wider than the logo and should be in Univers Italic or similar type style.
The Washburn University Institute of Technology has been a tremendous success story since joining the Washburn family in 2008. It has been affectionately known as Washburn Tech, and that’s fine, when following these guidelines:

TWO: FORMAL NAME AND INFORMAL NAME USAGE

For advertising and marketing purposes (ads, brochures, and banner ads) it is admissible to use Washburn Tech, even in the first or only mention, provided that the formal logo is also a part of the communication. (see example mock ad)

In all other communications, the formal Washburn University Institute of Technology must be used in the first mention, as in, “The Washburn University Institute of Technology (Washburn Tech) today announced…” In all subsequent mentions, the informal ‘Washburn Tech’ name may be used.

COLLATERAL MATERIALS/BRANDED MERCHANDISE

These materials may use either the formal logo or the informal logo. They can also use the formal logo along with the informal name in the copy.
Student Organizations and clubs are the lifeblood of the University, and are encouraged to show their organization/school pride in as many ways as they like. That said, there are some simple and easy-to-follow guidelines to follow to ensure brand compliance.

USING THE WASHBURN UNIVERSITY LOGO

The logo stands alone. No other mark, symbol or writing can be attached to it to form a new logo. And, as a rule, the logo must have clear space around it on all sides at a distance no less than the height of the “W” in Washburn.

Other simple logo rules are:

- Do not re-create the logo, use the approved versions only
- Do not place the logo within text
- Do not use alternative colors
- Do not crop/cut off the logo
- Do not make the logo smaller than 1" in width
- Do not outline, drop shadow or alter the logo in any other way

ADDING YOUR ORGANIZATION NAME

Again, we want to encourage usage so we’ve made it as easy as possible to join your name with the Washburn University name. Simply treat your club or organization the same as University secondary units are treated on page 18 of this brand book. In short, your name will appear below Washburn University in the logo, initial caps on letters of 3+ words, and in Garamond typeface.

HE’S YOUR ICHABOD, TOO!

And he’s a fine ambassador for any organization, so please use him freely. But with respect.

- Ichabod may appear in Washburn Blue (pantone 654), black, or reversed in solid gray or white. Other colors only in special circumstances and only after getting clearance from University Relations.
- For rules on cropping Ichabod and a full list of regulations with helpful examples, see pages 20-23.
USING THE SPIRIT MARK

Nothing speaks to the Washburn experience quite like the spirit of our student body, so show yours with pride. The Spirit Mark is a great way to ‘be true to your school,’ just be sure to stay true by not placing the Spirit Mark next to the logo or by placing type directly under it. And, just as with the logo, leave space on all four sides equal to the height of the “W” in “WASHBURN.”

USING THE WORDS “WASHBURN UNIVERSITY”

In short, feel free! There are but a few restrictions on using the university name, and you will find them in this brand book. If you have any questions, please contact University Relations at wurelations@washburn.edu or call 785-670-1154.

Finally, it’s important to know that any merchandise featuring the school logo, Spirit Mark, Ichabod or word mark must be purchased through a licensed vendor partner. A complete list of such vendors is available on the University website.
The Washburn University color palette is a system that fits in perfectly with the brand’s tone of voice, and is current without being trendy.

The foundations of the brand are in cool grays and blues, with secondary colors that help give visual depth and interest. These accent colors, along with their according tints, values and hue gradations, may be used to support the main color palette.

Please know that white space is essential for clear communication that is easy on the eye, and that white space is actually considered a color and a major component of any design.

COLOR USAGE

Colors can speak louder than words. They help emphasize, invoke emotion, even energize and inspire.

GRADIENTS

Tints, values, and same hue gradations, as shown here, may be used as needed to support the main color palette, and provide the perfect accent.

Whether printed, tweeted, posted or spoken, the way we use words is what brings the Washburn University to life.

If the essence of the Washburn University brand is to help others become their best selves, then the way we speak is the key to making that essence believable and desirable.

THE WASHBURN UNIVERSITY BRAND VOICE CONSISTS OF THE FOLLOWING CHARACTERISTICS:

AUTHENTIC Be genuine. It’s enough. Washburn University is not located in the ‘cultural hub of the Midwest,’ it’s located in Topeka, the State Capitol.

INVITING Make the person you’re talking to feel wanted. Instead of saying, “This is a highly competitive environment where only the strong survive,” try, “We’ll give you the tools to be your best, and an environment where you can prove it.”

COMPASSIONATE Be understanding, be forgiving, and be empathetic. People tend to listen best when they feel they’re talking to someone who understands their situation.

PASSIONATE Remember, passion is contagious. It’s not just okay to be enthusiastic about Washburn, it’s fantastic.

UNPRETENTIOUS Don’t speak down to your audience. Be mindful of your audience and subject matter – it’s perfectly fine to be informal.

One final note: The goal is not to capture every facet of the brand voice in every sentence you write. The better way to look at things is to ask, “Does what I just wrote break any one of the aspects of the Washburn voice?”
They say you only get one chance to make a first impression. Our business cards help ensure that it’s a lasting one. These cards are designed to act as an extension of our employees – helpful, informative, professional.

The Office of University Relations will, naturally, be most familiar with all Washburn University brand guidelines. It only makes sense, then, that they stand by ready to assist you with any print communications needs. To facilitate the process, they have created the accompanying Print Communications Assistance Form. Simply fill out the form, and the staff at University Relations will develop a branded piece custom-tailored to your audience and your needs.

Contact Washburn University Relations at wurelations@washburn.edu or call 785-670-1154 for more information and to receive the form.
The photos we take and share help us tell the stories of Washburn University. So it’s important that you be intentional when taking or selecting a photograph for university usage. A few simple guidelines will help you do just that.

Be passionate. One of the beautiful things about campus life is the passion of students and faculty. Be it a game of touch football by the dorms, or a spirited debate in the classroom, show your passion for life and learning.

Be inviting. Use correct lighting and framing in your photographs. A warm image tells a warm story.
Be authentic. Aim for realism and believability. Avoid photography (original or stock) that seems ‘staged’ or is obviously manipulated. Nobody studies for finals in perfectly pressed clothes and a giant smile plastered on their face.

MODEL RELEASES

Before publishing photos that feature individuals, written permission from the subject must be provided. To obtain release forms, contact the Office of University Relations at wurelations@washburn.edu or call 785-670-1154.
Professional photographers spend years perfecting their craft. Luckily, the everyday photographer can benefit from those years of experience.

Take time to notice and master a few of the basics for better photography with this small guide to some elementary do’s and don’ts.

Notice the framing. The subject is in the right third of the photo. The ‘rule of thirds’ says to divide your field into thirds and place your subject in any of those thirds.

The subject looks natural – as though the photographer were a ‘fly on the wall’ capturing an authentic moment in time.

Poor framing. There are subjects in two of the thirds. Your viewer will be unsure of what is the most important subject.

The subjects look posed and unnatural. The Washburn University brand voice is about being authentic, not staged.

A beautiful day, to be sure. But not so beautiful are the bright traffic cones and yellow tape in the background. Be aware of your surroundings and pay attention to everything in your shot.

The better the photo, the better the story.
1. PURPOSE. To set forth the regulations and procedures for the implementation of the University’s name and trademark licensing program.

2. DEFINITIONS. For the purpose of the licensing program, these definitions apply.

   2.1 “SERVICE MARK” means the distinctive letter, word, phrase, logo, or symbol used to distinguish services the University provides from services provided by other organizations.

   2.2 “TRADEMARK” (mark) means a distinctive letter, word, phrase, logo, symbol, or nickname, associated with the University and used on products, and can be distinguished from those of other organizations. “Trademark” also includes intellectual property rights held by the University.

3. RESPONSIBLE ADMINISTRATOR. The Director of University Relations or designee shall be responsible for the administration of the licensing program.

4. LICENSING PROGRAM INTENT. The University’s licensing program shall be designed to:

   • License an entity to use a University service mark or mark for any purpose;

   • Ensure the University name and trademarks are used appropriately, consistently, with high-quality reproduction, and to avoid misrepresentation of the University;

   • Allow the University to share in the benefits derived from the commercial use of its service marks or marks;

   • Establish a cooperative relationship with licensees to assist in the further development of a market of officially licensed products of the University; and,

   • Promote a relationship by which both the University and its licensees will benefit.

5. ROYALTY. The University shall require payment of a royalty by the licensee, and shall reserve the right to adjust the licensing program and the rate of the royalty fee as market trends warrant.

   5.1 ATHLETIC UNIFORMS EXCEPTION. All athletic and sports-themed items require licensing approval. An exception to the payment of royalty fees is granted for official game uniforms to be worn in competition by players of University designated intercollegiate athletic teams. This exception does not apply to athletic or sport themed replica or authentic items to be resold, donated, given, or given in kind to the general public.

   5.1.1 For any official University uniform to be exempt from royalty fees, the purchase of such uniform must be accomplished by purchase order in accordance with University purchasing regulations as set forth in Subject R, Purchasing and Financial Obligations. The vendor order form and/or the University purchase order shall contain sufficient information to provide justification for the exemption.

   5.1.2 Only orders placed in accordance with the University purchasing regulations may be exempt from royalty fees.

5.2 Other University Use Exceptions. An exception is granted for print products, including but not limited to, letter-head, business cards, and brochures whether produced by University Mail and Printing Services (UMAPS) or any other licensee for use by Departments or Department sub-units.

6. LICENSING PROGRAM MANAGEMENT. The University shall contract with a marketing company specializing in the collegiate marketplace to support the responsible administrator in the performance of the daily administrative activities.

6.1 RESPONSIBLE ADMINISTRATOR RESPONSIBILITIES. The responsibilities shall include, but not be limited to:

- Processing license applications;
- Coordinating artwork approvals;
- Considering the intended use of the service mark or mark for appropriateness;
- Reviewing sample products for conformance to quality and safety standards;
- Submitting promotional materials and products to the University for final approval;
- Issuing the license;
- Collecting the established royalty fee from the licensee and submitting to the University its share; and,
- Enforcement of licensed trademark rights.
Have questions?
We’re here to help.

Q. I want to produce a T-shirt and some give-away items with a University mark. Do I need approval from someone?
A. All giveaways must be purchased through a licensed vendor. For more information, contact Washburn University Relations at wurelations@washburn.edu or call 785-670-1154.

Q. What is the Washburn University wordmark?
A. The Washburn University wordmark is the standardized graphic representation of the Washburn University name. See page 16 for more information.

Q. I’ve designed a logo for my department and want to use it with the Washburn University wordmark. Is that OK?
A. No supplementary logos are to be used with the wordmark. We all benefit when a consistent graphic identity represents Washburn University. See page 16 for more information.

Q. Which seal should I use?
A. The University Seal is designated for use of the Office of the President. The President’s Seal may be used only with the permission of the Washburn University president. See page 17.

Q. How can I use the Ichabod?
A. Please refer to page 22 on Ichabod usage and contact wurelations@washburn.edu and 785-670-1154.

Q. Why do I need to follow brand guidelines?
A. Washburn University is a single institution, a trademark that stands for quality in higher education, research, health care, and a variety of other programs and activities. Given this diversity, it is necessary to establish a set of guidelines that position the University’s identity under one unified set of standards.

Q. How do I order letterhead, envelopes and business cards?
A. Please contact University Relations at wurelations@washburn.edu and 785-670-1154.

Q. What if I have more questions?
A. Please contact wurelations@washburn.edu and 785-670-1154.
