Reverse Transfer

Ready to transfer to Washburn now, but also don't want to miss out on completing an Associate degree? Once you've completed 45 hours of credit at the community college, you are eligible to take your last few remaining courses at Washburn, then "reverse transfer" them back to complete your Associates. This can be a real win-win for satisfying both degree programs.

Top 10 Reasons to Get a Business Degree from Washburn

10. We're accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB)

AACSB is like the gold standard of excellence in business education; it's only held by the top 5% of all business programs in the world.

9. Our students have great relationships with their professors.

All Business students are advised by members of our faculty, which provides students with an opportunity for mentorship and academic support that extends beyond the classroom. These mentorships can lead to internships, certifications and other networking opportunities that truly enhance the student's specific career aspirations.

8. Choose the Business specializations that are right for you.

All students complete the business core, which provides a strong foundation in Business. Students then choose from eight major specialization areas: Accounting, Economics, Entrepreneurship and Innovation, Finance, General Business, International Business, Management or Marketing.

7. It's easy to combine majors or add a minor to develop your perfect degree plan.

Many of our students will choose two major specializations and even add a minor (we have 45 to choose from). With early planning, this can often be accomplished without adding extra hours.

6. Getting to know your peers and building strong relationships is a cinch.

With small classes can get to know every single person in the room and easily build relationships with your classmates. Who knows what problem you may find to solve in a unique and innovative way! You and your team could potentially be the next "Advisors Excel" success story.

5. We have a variety of student organizations to enhance your education and experience.

Student organizations decide if they want to travel, attend conferences, invite local business experts to present or volunteer time working on specific projects. Many of these experiences are subsidized by the School of Business making it easy (and fun) to participate in a multitude of activities for very low cost.

4. Topeka has plentiful opportunities for internships and local jobs.

Topeka is fantastic place to participate in an internship or work part-time as a student. Business students are often working in their desired field as early as sophomore year.

3. We offer dynamic and interactive classroom experiences.

Our Entrepreneurship students meet downtown at 712 Innovations to access 3D printers and other tools. Finance majors manage a $100,000 fund as part of our Applied Portfolio Management course. Students who sign up for our Asian or European International Business Experience course are paired with Chinese and Belgium students to work on a business case for an international company. At the end of the semester, students travel abroad for a sightseeing excursion and to present their solutions to their clients.

2. Scholarships are plentiful and easily obtained.

Every Business student who meets the eligibility requirements and applies by the deadline date of February 15th will receive a scholarship.

1. Washburn Business students finish their programs well-educated and prepared.

Our students consistently score in the top 25% on the Major Field Test, a national standardized exam that is given at over 500 business schools annually. For the last 15 years and counting, our students have scored in the top 25%, every year.
